

Khintchine type inequalities and approximation properties

Quanhua Xu

Abstract. In this talk we will discuss several Khintchine type inequalities and their applications to (completely) bounded approximation properties. More attention will be paid to the case of reduced free product of C^* -algebras. A list of open problems will be presented at the end of the talk.